What will I learn at the clinic?

Lloyd Anderson provides training and instruction for both beginners and advanced riders and horses in horsemanship, Western, and English Pleasure. Teaching manners and respect, bending and yielding to pressure, and headset are included. Also work on gaining hip and shoulder control, transitions, lead changes, speed control and rating, stopping, and collection. Whether you show or trail ride, this clinic will help both horse and rider gain confidence and control. Clinic size varies, up to 20 horse/student combinations. Typically riders split into 2 groups of approximately 10 each. They ride for one hour on, one hour off with a one hour lunch break. There is a lot of variety to each day. Students can choose the things they would like most to work on. Lloyd fits it all in and makes you feel great at the same time!
